

Union Army sack coat with sergeant chevrons

Object Card

This four button “sack” coat was worn by all service branches during the Civil War. According to regulations, all Union soldiers received one of these coats upon enlisting. The sky-blue chevrons on the sleeves denotes the rank of infantry sergeant. Cavalry insignia was yellow, and artillery was crimson, hence it was easy to distinguish a soldiers’ branch of the service.

